Vierbicher has worked closely alongside famed Chicago developer Mike Keiser in recent years on the Sand Valley Golf Resort, contributing the expertise and agility necessary to see this masterpiece come to life.

The Sand Valley Golf Resort sits atop 1,700 acres of tumbling sand dunes rising up to 60 feet in elevation. In this large, multi-phased project, Keiser plans to develop up to five golf courses that respect and restore surrounding natural habitat.

Located in Adams County, Sand Valley has brought jobs, tourism dollars, increased property values, and improved business throughout the region, and will be a cornerstone for this region far into the future.

In this dynamic project, Keiser's team needed to accommodate many working parts. Each time concepts were revised, Vierbicher responded quickly with information, designs, and advice.
