Addressing the crucial need for affordable housing in McFarland, Prairie Creek is a thoughtfully designed multifamily development offering distinct living options for seniors and families. The community features two buildings:

- A 37-unit senior apartment building, providing comfortable and accessible living spaces tailored to the needs of seniors, fostering an active and engaged lifestyle.
- A 12-unit townhome building, offering spacious and modern living for families seeking a convenient lifestyle.

Prairie Creek addresses the need for affordable housing options in McFarland, aligning with the community's goal of providing diverse housing choices. The project offers seniors a quality living environment that supports an active and engaged lifestyle.

Vierbicher proudly supported this important project by providing comprehensive services including topographic and boundary surveying, stormwater management design, utility plans, construction plan development, and permit application preparation.
